Paradise Perfected: Olson Kundig Unveils a Masterpiece in the Desert

BY MALLORY GLEICH · JULY 18, 2025 · 2 MINUTE READ

The final – and most elevated – chapter in the story of Ascent at The Phoenician®, Summit by Olson Kundig, has finally been unveiled. A highly sought-after community located next to The Phoenician® Resort, the Summit Residences are designed by internationally acclaimed architecture firm Olson Kundig and offers a blend of modern design, natural materials, and seamless indoor-outdoor living.

Inspired by the Landscape

Summit by Olson Kundig’s architectural language draws from the textures, tones, and topography of the desert. Expansive terraces and retractable glass walls dissolve the boundaries between indoors and out, offering residents uninterrupted views of Scottsdale’s vivid sunsets and rugged mountain silhouette.

Each residence embodies a feeling of balance and warmth – an intentional design choice that brings harmony to both the environment and lifestyle within.

Elevated Interiors and Rooftop Experiences

The interiors at Summit Residences are as refined as the views. Natural stone, warm wood tones, and modern finishes create a timeless aesthetic rooted in elegance and simplicity. Every home is a statement in thoughtful luxury, tailored for everyday comfort and extraordinary entertaining.

A standout feature: each building is topped with private rooftop terraces, where residents can enjoy the serene beauty of starlit Arizona nights or gather with friends and neighbors against a sweeping desert panorama.

The Mountain Club: Wellness, Connection, and Community

At the heart of the Ascent community is The Mountain Club, an amenity-rich retreat created exclusively for our homeowners. With its resort-style pool, spa, fitness center, lounges, and private dining spaces, the club is designed to foster well-being, connection, and celebration, all just steps from home.

Whether it’s a morning workout, an afternoon of relaxation, or an evening of shared moments, the Mountain Club offers a holistic lifestyle anchored in comfort and community.

An Iconic Address with Unmatched Access

Located next to the legendary Phoenician® Resort, Summit by Olson Kundig places residents within reach of the very best Scottsdale has to offer. World-class golf, rejuvenating spa experiences, scenic trailheads, and fine dining are all part of everyday life here.

Summit Residences transcends the notion of home – offering a rare opportunity to possess a masterpiece of contemporary architecture set amidst one of Arizona’s most iconic landscapes, where sophisticated design merges effortlessly with the natural environment.
